World Stockmarket Outlook

The Credit Crunch is being described as "the worst crisis in ten years". We agree - it has been a very quiet decade!

There was an Asian crisis in 1997 forcing local currencies to devalue and which are now considered under-valued.

A hedge fund, Long Term Capital Management, failed in October 1998. The fund had US$4 billion in investors' capital, traded derivatives worth US$1.25 trillion and lost $4.6 billion in just four months! And was quickly forgotten.

On the other hand, a terrorist attack on the United States in September 2001 received (and continues to receive) plenty of attention, but weren't things more unstable in the past? The IRA, for example, with weapons imported from the United States and Libya, was active for 37 years from 1969-97.

Investors did get a little too enthusiastic about Technology shares and "internet-economics" leading to a downturn in world stockmarkets and a mild recession in the early 2000's.

Overall it was a rather uneventful decade.

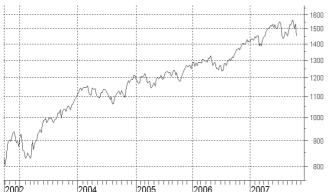

US consumers have continued to over-spend -aided by easy credit which led to the Sub-Prime Mortgage problem. Correcting that imbalance must - in the long term - be a favourable development.

The current Credit Crunch results from the uncertainty about the financial position of particular banks which has resulted in a sharp decline in inter-bank lending and liquidity in the short term money market. This is simply a question of confidence. Things will get worse while that confidence remains weak, but could quickly improve and return to normal. The Credit Crunch is not impacting on Asian domestic banks with no exposure to the US market. There is still plenty of liquidity in the Chinese market, in most Asian economies and amongst the oil exporting countries. Ultimately these global markets are all linked. It is very difficult, for example, for any central bank to control money supply in its own country as money flows between international financial markets.

The problems at UK based Northern Rock was that the company borrowed short term to lend long term - a business model that has failed throughout history! The bank's long term lending on mortgages was funded mainly from short term borrowing in the money market. The Credit Crunch effectively closed off its money market financing - but sooner or later something would have triggered a funding crisis and its current problems.

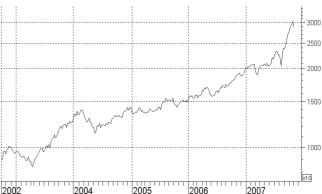

The point we want to make, however, is that a business like Northern Rock (or a more sound one that gets into trouble owing to the Credit Crunch) could easily be taken over cheaply (or perhaps for nothing) by the people who still have cash: the Asian exporting nations with massive foreign currency reserves or the Sovereign Wealth Funds operated by cash rich oil exporting countries.

If the Credit Crunch continues, it will offer an outstanding opportunity for cash rich Asian exporters or oil exporters to cheaply acquire businesses in the developed western world. We do not think that central banks and western governments will allow that to happen - which means the Credit Crunch will be allowed to punish over-extended borrowers but not deteriorate to the stage that we get a major economic crisis!

Fund Reports

Aberdeen Asian Smaller Companies Investment Trust plc plans to pay an annual dividend of 3.45 pence and a special dividend of 2.7 pence (being from special dividends received from its investments) on 30 November, ex-dividend 26 October. We currently hold warrants to buy the shares in three years time, so don't participate in this distribution.

The trust's portfolio is weighted towards domestic demand - retailers, utility and energy companies - rather than export companies. This should cushion the portfolio from any slowdown in exports, while rising wealth throughout Asia should support growth in domestic consumption.

The Fund Manager believes that with "mounting foreign exchange surpluses" Asian "currencies are fundamentally under-valued".

Smaller Asian shares have under-performed the liquidity driven boom in larger Asian shares, where "the justification for valuations seems tenuous" and a correction is possible. Smaller company shares are less at risk of a correction and should outperform in a less "feverish" market.

When the trust was first formed it invested in smaller companies with a market capitalisation of under US$250 million. That was raised to under US$600 million in 2002 and will now be raised to under US$750 million.

Scottish Oriental Smaller Companies Trust plc will pay a 27.8% higher final dividend of 4.6 pence on 25 January, ex-dividend 21 December.

The Fund Manager notes that "Asia's exposure to the global economy has fallen over the last ten years" although "exports remain a key factor driving economic growth". The trust holds 5% of its portfolio in cash - "reflecting a somewhat cautious view on the immediate future" - but the "longer term (Continued on Page 8)

Investment Fund Survey Information.

Fund Listings. Unit trusts are listed under the country where they invest, and then sub-divided according to the country where the Fund Manager is based. For example, "Australian Funds" hold principally Australian shares and other Australian investments although these funds may be based in either the UK, NZ or Australia.

Risk Ratings. Most equity funds follow general stockmarket trends but some are far more volatile than others. The "Risk Rating" measures justhow volatile a fund is relative to the stockmarket in the country where it invests. "Very High" and "High" risk funds will usually rise very fast during a Bull Market (i.e. during a rising stockmarket trend) but will also fall fastest in value when the stockmarket dips. "Low" and "Very Low" risk funds will experience smaller price fluctuations.

Superiority Ratings. The "Superiority Rating" is the most important statistic for selecting the best managed funds to buy and the worst managed funds to avoid. The "Superiority Rating" shows whether a fund's actual return was above or below its expected return based upon its volatility. For example, if the stockmarket rises 10% then a fund with a volatility of 1.5 would be expected to rise 15% (i.e.  $10\% \times 1.5$ ). If the fund rose 20% it would have a "Superiority Rating" of +5%. On the other hand, if the fund rose only 10% it would be given a "superiority rating" of -5%. (Actually, the "Superiority Ratings" are calculated from a statistical analysis of each fund's monthly performance over the last three years, with extra importance given to its performance over the latest twelve month period.)

Many funds can beat the stockmarket by a substantial margin during a Bull Market simply invested in very risky, volatile shares but these are not managed in a superior way. Only funds that perform better than can be expected from their volatility (or risk exposure) can be said to be benefiting from genuinely superior management.

Current Advice. The "Superiority Rating" measures the annual amount by which a fund's performance is above or below its expected return based upon its level of risk exposure. As a high "Superiority Rating" indicates excellent management of the fund's investment portfolio these trusts are automatically given "Buy" ratings. A negative "Superiority Rating" shows poor investment results and the funds with the worst management record have been given an "Avoid" rating.

Market Correlation. The "Market Correlation" measures how closely a fund's price follows general stockmarket movements (in the country where it invests). Correlations, which statisticians call R<sup>2</sup> ("R-squared"), vary from 0 (no correlation) to 1 (100% correlation). Most equity funds have "Market Correlations" between 0.60 and 0.95.

Investors who buy and sell funds on the basis of "market timing" should choose funds with high market correlations. The performance of these funds will closely reflect general stockmarket movements. Other investors may wish to minimise the impact of general stockmarket fluctuations and buy funds with lower market correlations.

How to Maximise Profits from this Investment Fund Survey.

First decide whether you want to invest in a fund that holds New Zealand, Australian, International, United Kingdom, European, Japanese or Gold & Mining shares, then turn to the appropriate section.

If you expect the stockmarket to rise strongly (in the country where the fund invests) the "High" and "Very High" risk funds with high superiority ratings and high market correlations will be your choice.

If uncertain about the general stockmarket trend then "Medium", "Low", or even "Very Low", risk funds with the highest superiority ratings will be the best investments.

Most NZ based and Australian based unit trusts are sold through sharebrokers and other commission sales organisations. UK based trusts are not sold through NZ agents but may be bought and sold (by telephone or by post) directly from the management organisations or through a stockbrokers like FasTrade (www.fastrade.co.uk). Prices can also be found at the TrustNet web site (www.trustnet.com). November 12, 2007.
