Tender Offer

Private Equity Investor plc is conducting a tender offer to distribute £8.5 million to shareholders. The company will repurchase the shares at net asset value (less the costs of the tender) or about $231\frac{3}{4}$ pence which is about 24% above the market price of $189\frac{1}{2}$ pence.

Shareholders should therefore offer 100% of their shares in this tender offer and the $\pounds 8.5$ million will allow the company to repurchase 19.5% of its shares.

If your shares are held in a Charles Stanley nominee account then you need to log into your account and instruct the broker to tender all of your shares on or before 19 May.

Tendering shares realises a cash value significantly above the market value. Investors who wish to retain their maximum interest in Private Equity Investor could use the cash from the tender to repurchase additional shares on-market at a lower price. For example, an investor with 1000 shares will likely have 195-200 repurchased in the tender for about £452-463. That could probably be re-invested on-market to acquire 239-244 shares (i.e. a net gain of about 44 shares - or about $4\frac{1}{2}\%$).

The actual numbers will depend upon the net asset value at the date of the tender, whether all shareholders participate (but nearly all have in previous tenders) and, of course, market values if one seeks to re-purchase shares on-market with the cash received.

The tender price will be determined based upon net asset value on 27 May, results will be announced on 29 May with payment on 4 June.

Private Equity Investor currently holds cash (and realisable assets) of £12.4 million, but is retaining £3.2 million to meet existing investment requirementss (i.e. amounts it has agreed to contribute to Venture Capital partnerships).

"Clean" Units

Charles Stanley Direct has indicated that they plan to switch our Invesco Japanese Smaller Companies "clean" units for a "cleaner" class of units. We currently own the "Z" units, priced at 282.69 pence and with an annual expense ratio of 0.99%. The broker will switch these into the "Y" units, priced at 193.93 pence with an expense ratio of 0.88%.

The broker has not yet switched our units, but based upon current prices, every 1000 "Z" units should convert into about 1457.691 "Y" units. The total value of our investment will be unchanged as a result of this switch, but in the future there will be a 0.11% annual saving in fund expenses.

Share Repurchases

Fidelity European Values plc made one on-market share repurchase over the last five weeks, acquiring 40,217 shares at £15.567 per share or £626,058 in total.

Debt Facility

Aberforth Smaller Companies Trust plc has established a three year revolving debt facility of £125 million, replacing an existing £100 million facility from 1 May. This new facility equals about $12\frac{1}{2}\%$ of net assets.

Fund Report

Baillie Gifford Ship Nippon plc lifted net assets 45.5% over the year to 31 January, significantly outperforming the 17.3% rise in its benchmark index.

Over the year the trust raised £11.4 million in new equity from the issue of 4,020,000 shares (12.3% of its starting capital) at a 4.6% premium to net assets - which increased the net asset value of the original shares by 0.7%. The directors are "contemplating a more substantive one off issue", perhaps as "C" shares, but consider the current on-market sales "supplying natural market demand, as and when it materialises, to be in the best interests of existing shareholders".

[Note: "C" shares are convertible shares placed with external investors, converting to ordinary shares after a short period of time, once the Fund Manager has invested the cash received.]

The company also negotiated a new seven-year loan facility of Yen3.35 billion. Gearing is about 11%.

Baillie Gifford Shin Nippon is a "stock picking fund" with an investment strategy "to identify and invest in smaller companies that have competitive advantage, strong management and potential for growth". It seeks "innovative young companies that are creating entirely new markets and disruptive new businesses that are gaining share from pedestrian incumbents". Portfolio turnover was just 14.4% in the year to January 2014, down from 15.9% the previous year. That indicates that the average share is held for 6-7 years.

Fidelity Japanese Values plc lifted net assets 31.8% over the year to 31 December, compared with a 21.7% gain by its benchmark index.

The trust's annual management fee has been reduced from 1.0% to 0.85%, effective from 1 January and "this will be reviewed later in the year in the light of the competitive environment". Investment management fees have declined in the UK since the Retail Distribution Review in January 2013.

Aberdeen Asian Smaller Companies Trust plc recorded a 16.0% drop in net assets over the six months to 31 January, compared with declines of 4.8% and 5.8% in its two benchmark indices.

The Fund Manager sees "the emergence of good value" after the recent market correction.

Scottish Oriental Smaller Companies Trust plc's net asset value fell 2.0% over the six months to 28 February, compared to a 1.0% fall and a 1.9% rise in its two benchmark indices.

May 12, 2014.

The Fund Manager is rather cautious, believing that "valuation of consumer companies have become stretched" and also "wary of potential asset bubbles emerging for small companies in certain sectors".

The trust has borrowings of £19.4 million (7.8% of net assets), but currently holds £36.1 million in cash, That is a net cash holding of £16.7 million (6.7% of net assets).

Convertible Loan Stock

We recommend against the early conversion of Aberdeen Asian Smaller Companies Investment Trust's 2019 convertible loan stock into ordinary shares. Investors have the option to convert this stock to ordinary shares every May through until its maturity in May 2019. At that maturity date, investors have the option of repayment in cash (at 100 pence) or converting 8.3 stock units into one ordinary share.

The loan stock pays 3.5% interest, yielding 3.1% on its current market value of 113 pence - which is higher than the 1.2% income yield on the ordinary shares. The main advantage, however, is the cash redemption option that protects most of our capital investment.

If Asian stockmarkets were to perform poorly over the next five years, then we could choose the cash redemption, recovering 88% (i.e. 100 pence) of the investment's current value (i.e. of 113 pence). In the same situation, the ordinary share price could fall significantly more.

There is a small price to pay for this higher income yield and capital protection. 8.3 stock units (costing 938 pence) convert into one ordinary share (currently worth 842 pence). That is an 11.4% premium or 96 pence. Most of that cost will be recovered in the higher income - likely to total 80-85 pence over the next five years - with the balance being the "cost" of the capital protection.

Obviously, of course, we expect Asian stockmarkets to climb in value over the next five years - where the loan stock will fully participate in the capital appreciation of the ordinary shares through the fixed conversion ratio but the cash redemption option of the convertible loan stock significantly reduces our risk of investing in this trust.
