Summary and Recommended Investment Strategy.

Successful non-resource exporters will continue to benefit significantly from the downturn in the resource sector and the resulting lower Australian dollar exchange rate. Remain fully invested.

Investment Outlook.

Our Stockmarket Forecasts remain relatively Bearish to Neutral and sentiment remains depressed, but it is difficult to make a case for a significant stockmarket decline.

Media reports on the Australian Resource sector are depressing, but are an example of Peter Lynch's "penultimate preparedness". Commodity prices have fallen and new mining developments have been cut back 80-90% . . . so the media (and investors) are now expecting and "prepared" for commodity prices to fall and mining developments to be cut back!

Stockmarkets peak (and subsequently decline significantly) from an environment of excessive optimism and over-valuation. The sort of thing that we saw in the 1980's Investment and Property boom or the late 1990's Internet boom. That is certainly not the case in most of the world.

An exception is perhaps the Chinese stockmarket. While there are very real risks in China (e.g. political and corporate governance risks, as well as the usual economic, stockmarket and emerging market risks), one could make a case that lower commodity and energy import prices provide a significant benefit for the Chinese economy, while manufactured export prices remain relatively stable. That should boost corporate profitability, possibly justifying the boom in share prices! Higher corporate revenues and earnings could also lead to higher wages, boosting general consumer spending and growth in the Chinese domestic economy!

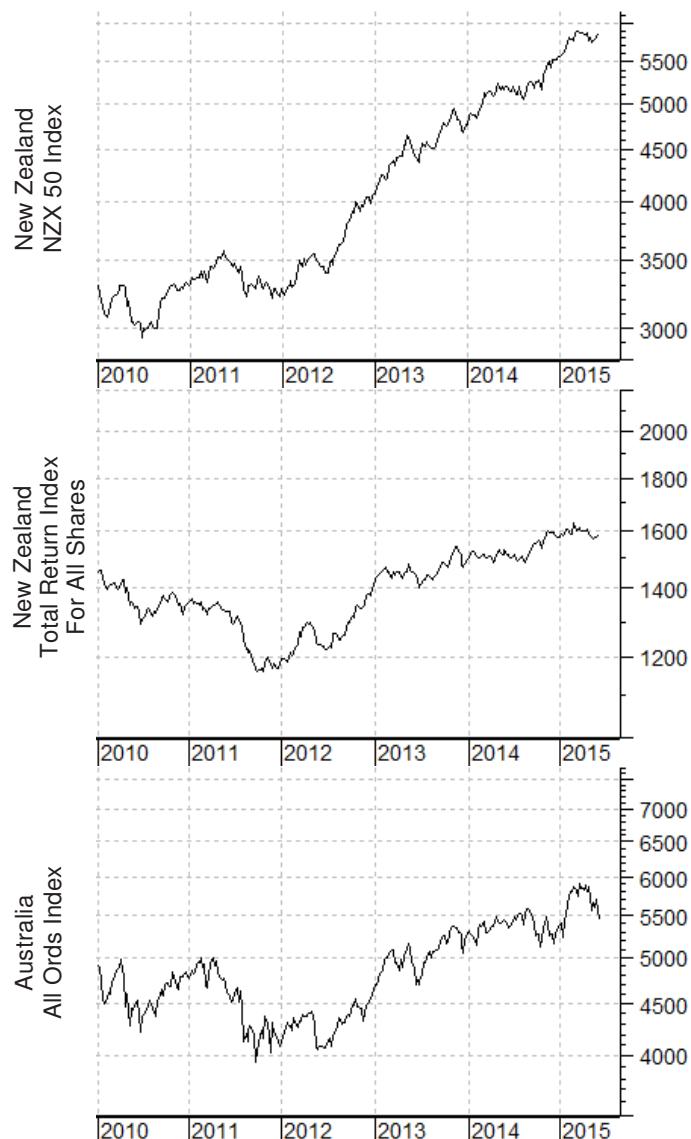

Slower growth in China - taking the pressure off high commodity prices - should result in greater corporate profitability and higher domestic growth.

Getting back to Australia, the resource downturn has already significantly lowered the exchange rate (with the media, of course, predicting it will fall further) which is an extremely favourable situation for our non-resource, export companies. A successful exporter will benefit further from the lower exchange rate significantly boosting profit margins and net profits!

Successful exporters - in China and Australia - could continue to grow strongly and appreciate in value!

CDL Investments reports March 2015 year-to-date property settlements of $9.9 million, up 11% on the same period a year earlier.

CDL Investments

Nuplex Industries has upgraded its June 2015 forecast earnings (before interest, tax and depreciation) from continuing businesses by 8-14% to $124-128 million. That should increase net profits by a higher percentage amount.

With the completion of a Capital Management Review, the company also intends to raise the 2015 dividend 28.6% to 27.0 cents per share and “the board expects dividends to grow in line with future earnings”.

In March, Nuplex Industries announced plans to repurchase up to 5% of its capital on-market and has since acquired 1.9%.

Nuplex Industries

Renaissance Corporation's liquidators have made a second and final distribution of 3.129 cents per share. In addition to the first payment of 13.0 cents, that realises a total of 16.129 cents per share.

ALS Ltd

Year to 31/3/2015

	Latest	Previous	Change
Revenues	$1,492.7m	$1,503.4m	-0.7%
Net Profit	$116.1m	$154.4m	-24.8%
Net Cash Surplus	$215.2m	$233.9m	-8.0%
Earnings per share	28.5c	39.2c	-27.3%
Dividends per share	21.0c	39.0c	-46.2%

In addition the company wrote-down intangible assets by $290.6 million.

ALS Life Sciences has become the largest division, lifting revenues 6% to $557.4 million and earnings (before interest and tax) 4% to $98.1 million. A new, multi-language Food LIMS (i.e. laboratory information management system) was “successfully deployed in the UK” and will be expanded to all global food laboratories this year.

ALS Minerals contributed $367.4 million in revenues (down 14%) and $73.4 million in earnings (down 28%).

ALS Energy lifted revenues 24% to $307.4 million, but earnings were 31% lower at $36.9 million.

ALS Industrial lifted revenues 4% to $190.0 million and earnings were 7% higher at $28.3 million.

When we first bought into ALS Ltd 15½ years ago the market under-valued this “no-growth soap company” but we saw value and growth potential in its Laboratory division which contributed 26% of revenues and 41% of earnings. The company has used the commodity boom to significantly grow its Laboratory business, initially focused upon mineral testing.

Today the market probably under-values this “no growth mineral services company” owing to the downturn in the resource sector, but we again see value and growth potential in its Life Sciences business (i.e. environmental and food testing laboratory services) which contributes 37% of revenues and 41% of earnings.

The Minerals business was always going to be very cyclical, while the Environmental business should be very non-cyclical - which will gradually result in more stable and predictable earnings in the future. As the Environmental business grows over the years the market's perception of the company may again change. A “Life Science” company, with growing, non-cyclical revenues would justify a high stockmarket valuation!

“Buy” for recovery and further growth.

AtCor Medical

AtCor Medical reports that a panel, convened by the North American Artery Society, has “issued guidance for doctors on the use of central aortic blood pressure waveform analysis in patient care”.

Atlas Pearls & Perfumes' 50% owned Essential Oils of Australia has announced that Capital Mining will not proceed with its purchase of Cannabinoid Extracts Australia. Essential Oils of Australia will proceed with this developing business.

Cardno Ltd has reported that its second half profit will be only $16.5-19.5 million, giving a full year profit of $48-51 million (down 40-43%). A harsh winter in the north-eastern United States, the slowdown in oil and gas services globally and the mining sector in Australia all contributed to this under performance.

The company will also write down intangible assets of its US and Ecuadorian businesses by around $200 million.

That announcement resulted in the share price falling but a buyer entered the market acquiring further shares at 260 cents per share. Malvern Capital Investments - a company associated with private equity firm Crescent Capital Partners - started buying shares shortly ahead of the profit warning at prices averaging 316 cents and has since built up an 18.74% stake in Cardno.

Ellex Medical Lasers reports on research to "investigate the effect of 2RT on cultures of animal retinal epithelium (RPE) cells". The research found that "directly following treatment of the targeted RPE cells the surrounding, surviving cells grew into the vacated spaces and stimulated expression of a range of protein factors, triggering a regenerative effect on nearby RPE cells".

The company notes that "this regenerative process may offer the potential for 2RT to emerge as a platform technology that could provide additional, alternative therapeutic applications".

Finbar Group reports the practical completion of its joint venture Subi Strand project - "slightly ahead of time and right on budget". The development consists of 245 apartments and 19 commercial lots worth $164.7 million. 80% of the lots - or 76% by value - have been presold and settlements will begin in June.

Iluka Resources has released details of its "new pricing and payments framework" which we mentioned briefly last month. The company will "establish a reference price for Zircon", updated quarterly, with contract prices of its other more than 50 products set relative to this reference price. This will seek to reduce price and volume volatility, to allow better planning for both customers and the company and reduce the cost of negotiating sales.

It will offer contract customers a choice of payment terms "to suit their cashflow and working capital constraints" but with "transparent associated costs". It will also offer incentives to "loyal customers" who use Iluka Resources as a preferred supplier.

Spot sales will react to short term changes in the market and allow a "price discovery mechanism" for setting quarterly contract pricing.

Mt Gibson Iron is considering a non-mining business venture: establishing a Logistics Base on Koolan Island which would be a “highly favourable location” to service the “potential and proposed offshore oil and gas field developments in the Browse Basin”. The company has entered an agreement with Qube Holdings, a specialist logistics provider, to investigate this venture.

Helicopter and aircraft services could commence “within 12 months of a decision to proceed”. Staged development could see “helicopter refuelling and maintenance facilities, air search and rescue, an all-weather runway for large scale passenger jet aircraft, a deep-water marine terminal and accommodation facilities”.

This venture could be “a highly attractive opportunity to generate long term additional value from its Koolan Island assets”.

Prophecy International Holdings has made two announcements regarding growth in SNARE sales, up 106% year-to-date and then up 117% by the end of May. This is in US dollar terms, so the gain in Australian dollars will be even greater.

The company also notes “a new trend emerging” with users of its “open source solution” upgrading to the “full function Enterprise software”, with “these upgrades expected to provide an ongoing increased stream of new licences”.

May was the second best sales month this financial year with “record sales” expected in June.

In the year to June 2014, SNARE contributed about 22% of group revenues and 50% of earnings. That fell to 18½% of group revenues in 2015 (owing to steady SNARE revenues and growth in the company’s other businesses) and only 37% of earnings (owing to higher costs, probably the new marketing initiatives).

For the current year to June 2015, SNARE could contribute about 33% of group revenues and lift total revenues around 20-25% (depending, of course, on the actual revenues of its other software businesses). The impact on net profits is harder to estimate owing to the economies-of-scale nature of a software business, undisclosed marketing expenses, the lower Australian dollar exchange rate and accounting decisions (i.e. capitalised development costs and amortisation). Nevertheless, stockmarket investment is all about making real money decisions in real time with uncertain and incomplete information . . . so on that basis we estimate net profits could be up 50-85% at $2.0-2.4 million (3½-4½ cents per share).

At 111 cents, Prophecy International shares could therefore be getting a little expensive on a prospective Price/Earnings Ratio of 25-30. On the other hand, SNARE sales growth shows no sign of slowing - and is, in fact, accelerating - so a similar rate of growth over the year to June 2016 would reduce the P/E ratio to a very reasonable 13-20.

Successful software companies can experience very strong profit growth. This is also still a relatively small company and the shares are tightly held resulting in a “tight scrip situation” where good results from the company are continuing to drive the share price sharply higher.

Prophecy International shares could be included in the All Ordinaries Index (of 500 shares) in the near future. The company has a market capitalisation of over $60 million, making it about the 450th largest company (i.e. larger than more than 50 companies with capitalisations from $46-60 million currently included in the index). Liquidity is not a consideration for this index.

With a capitalisation above $54 million the shares could be considered for the ASX 300 Index, but at this stage may be excluded owing to limited liquidity (although the volume and value of shares trading has increased significantly over the last several months).

If Index Funds start buying Prophecy International or institutional investors “discover” this “emerging growth company” and seek to buy shares then the price could move significantly higher.

There is, of course, always the risk of a short, sharp dip but overall we favour letting profits run. “Hold”.

Skilled Group has agreed to “further discussion” with Programmed Group regarding a possible merger after Programmed Group offered to “enhance the terms” of any merger.

Meanwhile Skilled Group is “well advanced” with a strategic review and planning to ensure it is “well positioned to continue to grow and compete in a dynamic and changing labour environment”.

The company expects its full year profit to be ahead 10-15%. Lower initial licence fee income depressed profitability in the first half, but the company is the preferred supplier for “a number of very large contracts”, subject to final negotiation, which should result in “strong licence fee growth over the full year”.

The small cash operating deficit (compared with a small surplus in the first half of last year) can be explained by an $8.4 million increase in trade receivables.

Technology One Cloud annual contract values more than doubled to $4.1 million and the company is aiming to have 80 cloud customers - with an annual contract value over $8 million - by December 2015.

Nevertheless, Technology One shares are looking a little expensive on a Price/Sales ratio of 5.80 and a Price/Earnings ratio of 37 - even if it can exceed its 10-15% forecast profit growth. “Hold-”.

TFS Corporation has announced - indirectly via a press article, not through a report to the stock exchange - that this year's timber harvest will be worth “more than $10 million”. Most of that timber will be owned by outside investors, which the company would need to purchase at auction before processing into higher value oil.

The article also discloses the recent purchase of a 7000 hectare aquifer irrigated property near Mataranka, in the Northern Territory, for $4 million and plans for a second $15 million oil distillation plant “most likely near Katherine or Kununurra”.

It further goes on to indicate the “ultimate aim” of the company is to expand its current 10,500 hectares of plantation to 25,000 hectares “by 2025”. That would require adding 1450 hectares annually, in line with the 1587 hectares developed in 2014 and the around 1500 hectares developed this financial year. The limiting factor for growth may be the capital investment required to acquire land and develop it into an Indian Sandalwood plantation.

The company had previously talked about Indian Sandalwood oil being used in consumer products for the Indian market, but now plans to develop its own retail brand for a “line of skincare and oil products” for the Indian and Chinese markets.

Performance Forecasts

"Performance Forecasts" are computer generated predictions of the relative future price performance of a company's shares over the next three to six months. Performance Forecasts are calculated for every listed NZ share (except Investment Trusts) on a rating scale using the letters "A" (Highest potential for capital appreciation over the next 3-6 months), "B" (Above Average), "C" (Average), "D" (Below Average) and "E" (Lowest). These predictions are NOT buy or sell recommendations, but can be useful to help time planned purchases or sales, or to identify shares worthy of further study and analysis.
